Each year on the Annual Farm Bureau Day a drawing is held and the two lucky boys or girls receive a pig. This pig is bred and when the baby pigs are 56 days old the Swine Committee weighs the entire litter and the contestant having the heaviest weighing litter receives a check for $15.00 and second weight a check for $10.00.

In September at the Hog Show in the county the contestant getting first place in showing of their pig receives a check for $15.00 and second place a check for $10.00. Should a tie result a check for $12.50 is given to each contestant.

2,471 X-rayed In Cameron; 300 Short of Goal

Saturday would have been a record day at the tuberculosis X-ray station in Cameron if fate had not intervened. The first accident happened at about 9:30 a. m. when a tube burned out in the machine. Since parts are not carried with the unit a special trip to Austin was made for a new tube, this took approximately three hours.

D. S. Wimberly, County Sanitarian, who is working with Hinton Pruett, county chairman of the X-ray drive, said that there was a long line waiting at the time of the break-down. Most of those waiting left and did not return to have their x-rays made. Others waited until the last minute and there were many people still in line at the closing hour of 5:30.

All in all however, Saturday was the best day of the three at the Cameron station, with 982 x-rays made. There were 2,471 individuals x-rayed during the three days, approximately 300 less than listed during the 1953 drive.

Pruett reminded the people of the county that they are eligible to have their x-rays made at any station, and if they missed having theirs made at the previous stations to report to the Buckholts station Tuesday or at the Rockdale station Thursday, May 27 and Friday.

It is hoped that at least 7,000 will be x-rayed in Milam County this year.

TP&L Hits New Safety Record At Close of Week

A new safety record was rung up by Texas Power & Light Company employees at the close of the work day on Monday (May 17) when they reached the grand total of four million manhours accumulated without a lost time accident.

"This is a record never before achieved in the history of any major power company," said TP&L president, W. W. Lynch, who made the announcement today.

"This attainment," he said, "means more than national recognition or awards. It means that since last August 19, no person employed by Texas Power & Light has been injured to the extent that he had to be off the job, that no one of them was disabled, and that none of their families suffered the loss of any of its members through an on-the-job accident.

"We are as proud of this record required as the constant alertness of every employee and every supervisor," he said, and is the more remarkable when all the factors are considered.

"In performing their duties inherent in an electric power company," Mr. Lynch said, "these employees work with high voltage electrical circuits and equipment, install and move heavy materials, and operate mobile vehicles ranging from automobiles and pickups to bulldozers and portable substations. They build, operate and maintain power lines, substations and power plants."

Mr. Lynch attributed Texas Power & Light's outstanding achievement to a strong Company policy of careful selection of men. "Then," he said, "we provide them with best of working conditions. We maintain a comprehensive, permanent type of training program. We follow a system of inspection of physical properties and the men's work habits. And at all times the fundamental rules pertinent to the industry are observed."

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER COMES OUT IN FAVOR OF A RETURN TO SWORD-FIGHTING TO REPLACE BOMBS.

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River sounds half-way serious this week, but you never can tell.

Dear editor:

I read the other day where some sarcastic columnist was ridiculing Navy officers for resuming the wearing of swords when they put on their formal dress uniforms for official occasions. According to him, in this atomic age wearing an old-fashioned sword is as out of place as putting buggy whips on automobiles.

I do not look at it that way. In fact, where the world made its big mistake was in abandoning sword-fighting in the first place to settle its arguments.

When the world beat its swords into plowshares, it made its first major error along the road to survival. All advancement isn't progress, and probably the most progressive step mankind could take right now would be to beat its atom bombs into broad swords and resume old-fashioned warfare.

Think what it would mean to the United States budget if the defense department issued a call for 20 million swords instead of 15 thousand bombers. You ever estimate the difference in cost between overhauling a bomber and re-sharpening a sword? Also, virtually every piece of motorized equipment we got on hand now is wearing out, that's the very nature of machinery, and in ten years practically everything we spend this year for defense will have to be spent again, as newer models of airplanes come out, more slaughterous bombs are perfected, etc., but a first-class sword made from good tempered steel 150 years ago is just as useful now as it was then.

Now I'll admit you can't kill as many people with swords as you can with bombs, but big numbers never did mean anything in themselves as far as I'm concerned, and if a man is killed thoroughly with a sword he's just as killed as if he was hit by a hydrogen bomb. Looks to me like scaling down the number of casualties you could report in the newspapers would be fof-set by a corresponding scaling down in the U. S. dept.

It's an old thing, but people are always talking about the high cost of things, yet they never talk much about the high cost of killing. Back in the sword-fighting days it probably didn't cost more than fifteen or twenty dollars to kill a man, but nowadays the figure is astronomical. As I say, all advancement ain't progress.

If the world's statesmen can't figure out a way to end war, and up to now they haven't made much showin in that direction, I'd like to see em agitate for a return to sword-fightin as an instrument of international argument - settlement.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"High-Priced" Mistake

Maybe you noticed the big "ad" Red Smith's Furniture Store ran in The Clarion last week.

One item caused some embarrassment around here. It read: "4-piece Bedroom Suite, regular price $119.50, bargain price $149.50." Guess I didn't "proof-read" too well, and when our pressman asked for the go-ahead, I yelled, "Let 'er go."

All kinds of jokes about the mistake. One fellow asked if Smith's was holding the price line so tight it just snapped. Turned out fine in the end—Red.

This 200-horsepower Buick CENTURY is the Riviera—the hardtop model that's taking America by storm.

Live wire that really looks it

(One reason why Buick is such a big success this year!)

ITS sports-car lines tell you there's lift and spirit here enough for any man.

Even standing still this glamor car looks alive.

But just note the name "CENTURY" emblazoned on its rear fender, and you can take it as gospel that this is a performance car of the very first water.

It's the liveliest of the live wires — the highest-voltage Buick in the line.

It is instant on getaway, a joy in cruising, a breeze on hills — and a honey of a friend in the added safety of its plenty reserve power always on hand for sudden needs.

It is, in fact, a 200-horsepower performance car, and priced far below it — the highest-powered car at its price in the land.

With this great-powered good-looker setting the pace — and with equally impressive SPECIALS, SUPERS and ROADMASTERS adding to the excitement — is it any wonder Buick today is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Now it costs less to "talk it over by long distance"

Long distance telephone calls have always been a real bargain.

Now that Congress has reduced the excise tax on these calls, it costs even less to "talk it over by long distance."

No part of the tax reduction goes to the telephone company. You get the full benefit — so most long distance calls now cost you 12% less than they did.

Next time why wonder or worry? Talk it over by long distance and be sure.

NOW... AN EVEN BIGGER BARGAIN

Local service also costs less. Excise tax cut reduces your cost approximately 5%.

Top Seven Seniors Have Records Which Prove Their Versatility

An accomplished group of seniors graduated from Yoe high school this year. Out of a class of 91, 22 were honor students. It is thought by many that students who have such high academic records find study and reading their sole interest. The top seven honor students have records which prove their versatility and interest in all phases of extracurricula activities.

Jane Henderson, valedictorian, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson of Cameron was the member of many organizations and the winner of many awards. All during her high school career she was a member of the band. Jane was a member of the Student Council, home room representative, junior class president, Junior Historians member, officer in the Future Homemakers of America several times, was in the Senior Play and on the Yoeman Chant Staff. She also won the citizenship trip in '53, the D. A. R. Award in '54 and was declamation entrant in '52 and '53. She plans to attend the University of Texas after graduation from high school.

Marguerite Hickman, salutatorian, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hickman, has to her credit: Band - '51 through '54; declamation '51 and '52; typing - '53; shorthand - '54; Tennis - '54 Student Council - '52 - '54; Home Room representative - '52; FHA - '52 - '54; Senior play - '54; and Swing Band - '54. Marguerite plans to be married following graduation to Albert Michalka on June 12.

Robert "Bobby" Balhorn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Balhorn, plans to attend A & M next year. He was on the football team, the slide rule regional winner, placing fourth at the state meet, in the Junior and senior plays, the one-act play in '52, on the track team, was the freshman class president, the sophomore escort in '52, and won the citizenship award in '52 and '53.

Lu Wane Asher, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Asher, plans to attend Baylor after high school graduation. She was on the debate team two years, in the band two years, a member of the Junior Historians, on the annual staff in the choral club in both the junior and senior plays, in the swing band a regional winner in the ready writing contest.

Patricia Michalka, the daughter of Ralph Michalka, has made no definite plans for the future yet. She was freshman queen candidate in '51, freshman class secretary in '51, a member of the band for three years, band sweetheart in '51, FHA member for three years, in the junior and senior plays, in the one-act play in '52, declamation entry in '52, on the Chant and annual staff '52 through '54.

Martha Ann Collins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Collins, is another of the top seven who left long records of accomplishments at Yoe high. She was in the band for four years, being drum major in '54; in the swing band three years, on the student council '51 and '52, on the annual staff in '53, on the Yoeman Chant staff in '54, sophomore class president, choral club, FHA three years, in the junior and senior plays, a member of the Junior Historians four years, in the one-act play in '52, on the tennis doubles team in '51 and '53, and won the citizenship awards in both 1952 and '53.

Donald Rose, the only other boy listed in the top seven, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rose. He was the Yoe Declaration sense entry in '54, in declamation in '51 in the one-act play in both 1953 and '54, was the senior class secretary and was the home room representative in 1953. Most of the honor students have similar lists of activities to their credit, a refutation of the idea that brains and well-rounded personalities don't go together.

Ninty-One Yoe Graduates Receive Diplomas Monday Night, May 24

Traditionally attired in the scholars cap and gown, the 1954 Yoe high school seniors made their triumphant ascent to their chairs at the commencement exercises Monday night, May 24 in the school gymnasium.

The theme of the program was "The Centennial of Education in Texas."

Ushering in the graduates was the high school band with the appropriate processional "Triumphal March".

Donald Rose, graduating honor student, opened the ceremonies with the invocation. The band then played the nostalgic "Will You Remember?"

First broaching the subject of Education was Martha Ann Collins who spoke on "Education in Texas during the Spanish period."

Then Patricia Michalka brought Texas education history up through the Mexican period and in the days of the Republic of Texas.

Lu Wane Asher spoke on "The Schools of Texas from 1846 to 1875."

Robert Balhorn told of the beginning of the modern school system in Texas and Marguerite Hickman gave data on the growth of the educational system from 1900 to 1945.

A forward look in Texas education, the concluding address, was given by Jane Birdwell Henderson.

Sanford M. Layfield, principal of Yoe high school made the presentation of the class with W. T. Hanes, superintendent, making the individual presentation of the graduates.

Diplomas were presented the 91 graduates by Dr. Clifford Swift, president of the school board.

After the last diploma had been presented the graduating class, for the last time in unison, sang "On Yoe High", the school song.

The ceremony was completed with the recession of the graduates to the "War March of the Priests" by the school band.

In his address he further pointed out that all of the truly great men in American history have had an abiding devotion to God.

This heritage, the most important of every American, still is the reigning factor in our destiny. Rev. Russell reminded the seniors that "In God We Trust" is imprinted upon every coin of this nation. He explained that this symbol expresses the basic faith of the architects and builders of this nation, and that only in this atmosphere could this, the finest system of education, be developed in the world. The public schools, he added, are a promise and pledge of opportunity to every boy and girl.

In his address he said, "In your schooling you have learned to study together, plan together and work and play together as Americans. You respect, honor and trust each other as Americans. It is this basic understanding of unity which is sustained in our public school that has unified us as a nation and binds us together as citizens."

"There are three fundamental ideals that characterized our forefathers that must be maintained and made permanent as our personal convictions are put into practical demonstration if we are to keep our nation strong and free."

He outlined the following ideals: (1) Give God a Primary place in your life whatever your vocation or position; (2) A second fundamental principle which our forefathers recognized as a Christian ideal was to respect and reverence the Christian faith, life and belief of your neighbor and (3) The third principle is Sustain the free public schools of this nation.

At the conclusion of his address he implored, "Yours is a great heritage. Sustain it. Be worthy of it."
